

Solving MATH Word Problems

read the problem carefully, identify and underline important information understand what the problem is asking, set up the variables for the unknown create a diagram and expressions/equations to show relationships in the problem use appropriate formulas, substitute variables where necessary solve the problem, showing every step of the solution, using a proper math form review and proofread your solution very carefully; include the "therefore" statement